Mukbang

Visual Story

Mukbang is some art made by Colin.

Before I explain the art itself, there are a few special words to explain first...

A Mukbang is a video on youtube of someone eating lots of food.

A readymade is a sculpture made out of something that already exists.

Famous readymades have been made out of things like toilets and bike wheels.

But this readymade has been made out of food from a company called Nestle.

Nestle is a company that makes lots of different food.

You might have eaten some Nestle foods before, like KitKats or cheerios.

In the past, Nestle haven't been very nice to some people and some animals.

And some people choose not to eat Nestle food because they don't like the things Nestle have done.

Colin's dad was one of the people who chose not to eat Nestle food.

So Colin grew up not eating any food from Nestle.

Colin's dad wasn't always a nice person,
so Colin doesn't speak to him anymore.

But Colin still doesn't eat Nestle food.

This art work is about Colin having difficult feelings about their dad and their dad's beliefs.

Colin thinks maybe eating Nestle food would make them more free from their dad.

But Colin still doesn't eat Nestle food.

Colin thinks maybe they agree with their dad about Nestle, even if they don't agree about anything else.

Images from The Noun Project, Pexels, and Tom Oliver

With thanks to Katie Luna Goldfinch

Visual story by Colin Lievens 2024

An imagine is a picture of someone famous with some writing about what you might like to do with them.

And mundane means really boring.

So Mostly Mundane Imagines are about doing really boring things with famous people.